

Gadag district played a vital role in Karnataka unification movement'

'Many great personalities fought for Karnataka unification'

GADAG, DHNS

Many great personalities fought in the Karnataka unification movement. Gadag district also played a vital role in that movement, said Legislative Council Chairman Basavaraj Horatti.

He was speaking after inaugurating a seminar on the Karnataka unification movement at Swami Vivekanand PU College at Hulkoti near Gadag on Saturday.

He suggested that students should be aware of history and should join hands in building a strong nation.

He said, children need culture along with proper education. These days, there is lack of culture among youths who could not contribute to the growth of the country. Hence, moral education should be taught to the children to make them bet-

Legislative Council Chairman Basavaraj Horatti inaugurates a seminar on the Karnataka unification movement at Swami Vivekanand PU College at Hulkoti near Gadag on Saturday. DH PHOTO

of opinion over ideology among people. However, one should not hate anyone personally and should not hurt anyone. Students should develop a selfless nature. Youths may get jobs after completing their education. However, moral education is needed for the students these days. There

Director Gavisiddayya said: "the department is collecting and preserving important documents from prominent persons, mutts and other parts of the State. We have documents related to Mysuru, Mumbai, Hyderabad Provinces. More than 1.40 lakh documents are preserved by the State