AFTER morning intrigue, defence minister Rajnath Singh, who was made a member of two key cabinet committees including security, will also chair the Cabinet Committee on Parliamentary Affairs and be a part of the all-important panel on political affairs, headed by Prime Minister Narendra Modi.

Singh's name was conspicuously missing from the key committees when the names were announced earlier on Thursday. The Cabinet Committee on Political Affairs takes all important political decisions. Singh was made a member of the Cabinet Committee on Economic Affairs and the Cabinet Committee on Security earlier and he is now part of six key panels.

On Wednesday, Singh was made a member of two new panels: the Cabinet Committee on Investment and Growth and the Cabinet Committee on Employment and Skill Development.
