Jagan govt to introduce
'Gender Budget'

HYDERABAD, DHNS: Chief Minister Jaganmohan Reddy has announced that Andhra Pradesh will introduce the Gender Budget with effect from the coming financial year.

The chief minister also launched "Swecha" a scheme to provide 10 free biodegradable sanitary napkins per month to the girl students studying in classes 7-12 in all the government institutions, from July 1.

Participating in the International Women's Day celebrations at the chief minister camp office in Amaravati on Monday, Reddy virtually inaugurated the Women Help Desks in all the police stations across the state along with Cyber kiosks, and flagged off a fleet of 900 Disha patrolling vehicles and 18 Disha crime scene management vehicles functioning for women safety.

Reddy said that Andhra Pradesh will become the first state in the country to come up with the Gender Budget concept. The gender budget statement is proposed in two parts.
