LEGISLATIVE Assembly Speaker Vishveshwar Hegde Kageri on Saturday said that as of now there was no proposal to start a separate television channel for covering the proceedings in the legislature.

Speaking to The New Sunday Express, Kageri said that the state legislature would not run for even 150 days in a year. "What should we do with the channel during the remaining days?" he asked.

Speaking on the ban imposed on media persons from covering the proceedings in Vidhana Soudha, Kageri said that he had not imposed the ban. "Journalists from print and electronic media are free to attend the Assembly and witness the proceedings. We have only prohibited the cameras they use. However, Doordarshan will cover the proceedings and will share video free of cost," he said. "At various speakers' conferences, there have been discussions on upholding the dignity and image of the House. There were suggestions made at these forums on running the House on the lines of Lok Sabha and Rajya Sabha," he said.
