Chinmayanand case: Victim stopped from writing exam

Shahjahanpur: The law student, who has accused former Union minister Swami Chinmayanand of rape, was on Tuesday stopped from appearing in her LLM third-semester examination due to low attendance, officials said.

The 23-year-old student, who had on Monday appeared in her first-semester back paper amid tight security, was not allowed by the Mahatma Jyoti-ba Phule Rohilkhand University in Bareilly to appear for the third-semester exam.

The law student, accused of demanding extortion money from Chinmayanand, is presently lodged in Shahjahanpur jail. She was taken to Bareilly on Tuesday amid tight security for appearing in the exam, jailor Rajesh Kumar Rai said.

The head of the law department of the MJP Rohilkhand University, Amit Singh said, "The law student had come to give her third-semester exam but she did not have the admit card because of attendance shortage." Singh said that there were no instructions from the court to allow her to appear in the exam.

The woman, who was studying at Chinmayanand's Swami Shukdevanand Law College, was given admission to the Bareilly college on Supreme Court's directions.
